I ran the dishwasher, but moved up to doing the pots and pans, clean the steam table, and scrub the floors after-hours.

Your doctor may change your dose occasionally until you find the right balance.

She returns with a bottle of something called "acetaminophen," claiming it's the same thing.

It will be up to the FDA to determine if a product is biosimilar or if a product is so close to the original biologic that it can be designated as an "interchangeable" biosimilar.
